COLLECTION INCREASES DUMMER LIBRARY

Books in considerable number are coming to the Dummer Academy Library to form what is known as the FATHER AND SON collection.

Some two years ago Mr. Daniel B. Morris suggested that he would like to give to the Dummer Library a book each year as a gift from himself and his son John, a student at Dummer Academy.

The first book actually given to this collection came from Mr. Roland H. Sherman. On the fly leaf is his own name and names of his two sons, Edgar and Roger. Later a book plate was prepared bearing the inscription "Dummer Academy Library, Father and Son Collection" and plates were sent to a number of past and present students' fathers. Responses have been immediate and gratifying and the basis for a considerable addition to the library has been laid.

THE JUNIOR PROM

At about quarter of eight the evening of May twenty-sixth, a certain room in the Commons was crowded with dressed, semi-dressed, and undressed specimens of Dummer youth. The room was filled with cries of, "Hey John, tie this will you? "Come yuh, John, fix this, will yuh?" and similar pleas. By eight, or thereabouts, most of the school had succeeded in struggling into "tux's" and having their ties tied, and all went down to the Gym, whence issued lights of gay colors and light laughter. "What will she look like," the fellow who is "dragging behind" wonders. "Hot dog," I see her to-night," says the fellow who is dragging her from home. Why all this fuss? Sufficient to say that it was the night of the Junior Prom.

The decorating committee did a great job. The main floor of the Gym was roofed over with purple and gold streamers, and the lights were covered with the same colors. The orchestra was screened off by a lattice work of streamers. At the bottom of the stage were the numerals "1925", and there was an electrical fire in the fire place at the other end of the room to warm those who were cool.

Refreshments were served by Austin, of Newburyport. Ted Wright's Orchestra, of Newburyport, furnished music that made the hearts of all glad

BASEBALL AT DUMMER

DUMMER 19 HAMPTON 0

On April 19 the Dummer Baseball team made a fitting start of the season by swamping Hampton Academy 19-0 at South Byfield. Heavy stick work by Dummer was the main feature and enabled us to win our first shut-out baseball game in years. The game lasted only six innings, being so one-sided. At the end of the 3rd inning Coach Reagan put in many substitutes, including a complete new outfield.

It seemed that the main deficiency lay in the battery, but it is evident now that "Swede" Forsberg will back up the plate well, while Chandler and Captain Hinds will do the twirling. So far Coach Reagan has produced a pretty fair team from the green material that reported on the first day of practice.

Noble & Greenough 7, Dummer 6.

Dummer Academy and Noble and Greenough school of Dedham had a bitter baseball duel at the Academy grounds Wednesday afternoon and the end of the ninth inning found the visitors just one run ahead of the home team.

The game was a thriller from start to finish. Nobles started out strong in the first and collected three runs before the South Byfielders had got under way. In the third inning Dummer scored twice due to heavy bat work and in the fifth evened up the score with another run, making the totals 3-3.

In the sixth Dummer got two more runs and stood on the big end of a 5-3 score. However, the seventh inning proved the lucky one for the Dedham team and by means of several good hits and a couple of Academy errors, they scored three times and thus established a one run lead, 6-5.

They gathered in their last run in the ninth and were able to clinch their victory by staving off the Dummer ninth-inning rally which enabled their opponents to score one more run and thus make the final tally 6-5.

Both teams play very well considering the cold weather. Captain Summers of Nobles was the star of the visiting outfit, making four very difficult catches in the outfield. Captain Hinds, Watkins, McLeod, and Gardiner were the leading Dummer players. Dunlop pitched well for Nobles, striking out nine, while Chandler held the mound creditably for Dummer with five strike-outs.

Dummer Triumphs over Lawrence

In one of the closest and most exciting baseball games ever played on the Academy Grounds, Dummer triumphed over Lawrence Academy by the score of 14-13, Saturday, May third.

The game was nip and tuck until the final run had been scored. Captain Hinds making his initial appearance in the box, did very well and Dummer was on the big end of a 12-7 score when Chandler relieved Hinds in the fifth inning. Dummer did not score again until the ninth, but Lawrence gradually crept up and with two runs in each of the 7th, 8th and 9th innings, led by one run. Back in the 3rd inning, Dummer had found Hubbard's pitches and accumulated 7 of the 12 runs, so that Captain Hedstrom who was catching, changed with Hubbard and thus reversed the battery. This combination worked well until the last of the ninth, when the fighting spirit of the Dummer team came through. In this inning Hinds was first man up and made a good hit through second base. Then Stone, pinch hitting for Chandler, came through with a nice bunt and reached first safely, scoring Hinds who had previously stolen second and third. The score was now a tie, 13-13. Jimmy Gardiner beat out a bunt and shortly afterwards stole second, but Capron, running for Stone, was caught stealing home. "Grimes" was now on third, and, when MacLeod popped up a fly to the Lawrence right fielder and that unfortunate individual dropped it, crossed the plate for the winning run.

Amesbury 22, Dummer 5

On the 26th of April the Dummer baseball team received a severe setback in the form of a 22-5 beating at the hands of Amesbury high. Chandler pitched the first seven innings and was badly pounded by the visiting batsmen. Fitzsimmons finished out the game and proved steadier than his predecessor. Out of the

How important is each one of us?

A bore is the fellow who makes one listen to what he has done. A hero is the one who keeps quiet about his accomplishments. Even for a hero there is a time when he will "slip" and tell the wide world what he has done. In school life quite often do we come across egotism.

The fellow who most desired and wanted in common society is he who lets others find out what he has done.

Men and women differ greatly in egotism. A woman, after having recovered from an illness, will talk with everybody and explain how the doctor didn't expect her to live, etc. A man or boy, at a dance for instance, will rave to his partner oftentimes of what he has accomplished. It is true a man can feel proud; but why tell the world. The world is jealous and would rather be praised than praise. When it does praise a man, however, we can assume that he didn't tell the world to honor him, but let Fate do her work.

Let's eliminate this one-way "I love me stuff." Yes; let's eliminate it. Easily said, and easily done. Some incident happens to one of us, and he thinks it is big, but the "other fellow" knows it's small. The one way to eliminate this "I love me" lies in the less use of the word "I". Whenever we come across the word "I", let us just say "Excuses."

Many will read this "line" hereon, and a few will laugh; but be wise and careful for you may laugh and

A PLEA FOR THE PHYSICAL

The former students of Dummer Academy who believe in athletics have been long suffering and said little when it came to the drought in sport victories of late but now some are beginning to wonder why the school cannot even win from Sanborn Seminary and Amesbury high nowadays. Witness the terrific 31 to 10 lacing handed out by Sanborn in basketball last winter and the 23 to five shock given the South Byfield school by Amesbury only a few days ago on the diamond.

Those who believe good athletic teams help a school have the right to ask why there has been so much deterioration in the calibre of Dummer's sport organizations. Years ago rivals like the two other schools named were almost without exception left far in the rear by the Academy. Now a victory over Amesbury is so unusual that it gives room for comment. Has Dummer reached the point where it can only compete with mediocre, small town teams like West Newburyport high or Perley Free School of Georgetown? It begins to look as though this was the true tale.

All those who hold the school dear are proud of its accomplishments in general under the present principal, Dr. Charles S. Ingham. We doff our chapeaus to him in homage and are proud of him. But athletics have not kept pace, whatever the reason be. It is getting so that Dummer cannot give good opposition even to Amesbury, that years ago used to be comparatively easy. One may as well face the facts. Newburyport high nowadays would put it all over Dummer in the major sports, nine times out of 10. It didn't use to be that way a dozen years or so ago. Newburyport has progressed in baseball and football and possibly with the exception of one or two years would have taken the laurels annually on the diamond or on the gridiron during the past 10 years if there had been duels consistently during that time. The schools have met comparatively little recently.

At one time Dummer held a proud position in sports, has it been lost forever? Time was when teams like the Harvard freshmen, Worcester academy and other premier opponents were met and given tough battles. The writer recalls when Dummer met Worcester academy in the "heart of the commonwealth" city in a wonderful struggle a little over a decade ago. Worcester barely won, three to nothing, with Dummer exclaim, "I think that's terrible," thereby proving that you are not free from egotism. At the next dance (taken for a social function) listen and count all the "Excuses" you hear.

THE GOVERNOR

fighting hard all the route. Those were the days of "Doc" Worcester, Johnnie Yesair, Chandler, Boyle and other D. A. baseball aces. There have been not a few excellent players since, like Bob Nutter, "Joe" Worcester, "Tony" Lufkin, "Izzy" Sawyer and others but with the exception of "Johnnie" Hinds, all-around athletes at the academy are among the missing at this writing. It is to the credit of Sanborn and Amesbury that their representatives can so handily beat Dummer, but shades of the mighty ones in the past, will there be any change? Must we stand it indefinitely? One gets "fed up" after a while.

There may be reasons for the numerous lickings handed Dummer, let's find out why! Starts have been made but little resulted. Not many months ago an athletic committee was appointed, the purpose being to boost sports. If the group is functioning, the action has been so feeble that it can hardly be noticed. Meetings are seldom called and members who are anxious to do something definite have little opportunity. They hardly know what is expected of them. Does one man rule prevail?

Considerable preliminary work has been done on the former pasture that is used for outdoor athletics. This was accomplished largely through the personal sacrifices made by one of the instructors, Walter J. Farrell who toiled like an oldtime slave during the hot weather, and with the aid of a tractor leveled much of the ground. But the follow-up has been slow. A former student has generously given money for the purpose and he deserves praise for it. But there seems to be a pronounced inertia. One can hardly expect boys to do much in athletics if the proper facilities are not provided. The wonderful Lang gymnasium provided the place for the basketball enthusiasts, how long will it be before something really worth while is done for the baseball and football players and more accommodations provided for spectators?

The coaches are not to blame. There are few better mentors than Francis Reagan, who has charge of basketball and baseball. Mr. Farrell took up a hopeless task with green hockeyists and did his part. Bricks cannot be made without straw, as the old saying goes, a house without a foundation will not stand and it is impossible to mould teams of athletes with material not available.

Is good athletic timber coming to the school? Some would say there was little. Wouldn't a few more rich poor boys if given scholarships help the school athletically? Other institutions hand them out when deserved, why can't the academy do likewise? It would be the salvation of athletics which are in a sad state this term with the possible exception of football last fall when "Tony" Comerford's eleven came through well, and the winter track team.

There is no need of subsidizing athletics but lads of ability in sport ought not to be turned down because they excel in physical prowess.

Good teams help institutions and Harvard, Yale, Princeton and other universities; Exeter, Andover, Mercersburg, and academies galore realize this and act accordingly. How can any graduate of Dummer steer a boy of athletic skill toward the South Byfield school with the probabilities so strong that he will be turned down if funds are lacking? There is no sentiment for admitting boys of doubtful moral character, such ought to be barred. But eligibles who pass muster ought to be encouraged to enter.

One hates to find fault but drastic measures are necessary if Dummer is to make decent showings in sports hereafter. Do the ex-students back the school as they should? What is the Sons of Dummer doing? Is it merely a moribund society with a name and that is about all? Is it a fact that if some who have taken an interest in the school are apt to say they will not play if it is not a case of having their own way all the time? What is the reason there have been no alumni reunions for a couple of years or more? Is there nothing to enthuse over or to learn about what the school is doing, aims to do or hopes to? Is there friction, indifference, just a don't care spirit, or opposition to all worthwhile advance movements? Why is there such a lack of interest among many of those who ought to care? Would it not be a good idea to stir up the dry bones get together in harmony, forget any slights, real or imagined and get behind the school not only for the benefit of athletics but to lift in every possible manner? It can be done and the endeavor should be started at once.

CHARLES I. SOMERBY
Haverhill, Mass.

WORK TO BE RESUMED ON PERKINS HALL

Work on the old gymnasium, to be known as Perkins Hall, will be resumed with the hopes that it will be completed in time to be of use when school opens again in the Fall. The completion of this building is a necessity to the growth of the Academy. Had the building been ready last September the School would have been able to have admitted many boys who had to be turned away for lack of room. The addition of Perkins Hall to our dormitory group will mean an increase of from twelve to fifteen boys.

TENNIS and GOLF

There has been considerable difficulty in arranging a tennis and golf schedule. The schools in this vicinity do not have teams in either sport. Thus far a tennis match has been arranged with St. John's Prep. for May 20th at Danvers. A golf match with the same school will be played on the Dummer links May 23rd.

Groton 18, Dummer 8

April 30th Dummer made a long trip across country to play the Groton School at Groton. The inexperience of our battery and poor support placed Dummer on the small end of the score. For the first two innings our team looked promising, but the beginning of the third our players put on their "comedy of errors" and Groton slipped over 7 runs. At the end of the fifth with the score 9 to 7 against us there was an opportunity to retrieve our baseball reputation but some miscreant cut the strings which held the balloons and the ascension became a continuous performance until the end of the game. Both teams played poor baseball errors being numerous on both sides. Sufficient to say that the gas in the Dummer balloons had more lifting power than that of the Groton school.

The score.
